

Questions to Ask Your Doctor:

Mapping Out your Treatment Plan

When you meet with your doctor, use these questions to help you make a plan for the future:

Which pediatric patients should be tested for adult GHD and at what ages?

Are there any long-term health risks for GHD adults?

What are the symptoms for GHD adults?

What kind of doctor helps manage adult GHD? Where can I find this kind of doctor?

How can Nutropin help with adult GHD symptoms?

Are there any long-term safety considerations or side effects?

Where can I find help navigating the insurance coverage process for adult GHD?

What else is good for me to understand about how GHD could affect me in adulthood?

Please see the accompanying full Prescribing Information, and additional Important Safety Information throughout and on pages 10–11.
